The Union Jack Club is a Service Charity that provides modern hotel accommodation and facilities in central London to all serving and former serving members of the Armed Forces' and their families. The Union Jack Club is conveniently located in the centre of London beside Waterloo Station, in the vicinity of the vibrant South Bank and within walking distance of some of the capital's main attractions.

A unique venue with comfortable up-to-date facilities, offering over 290 bedrooms, bars, restaurant and private dining and reception facilities with Wi-Fi throughout. Created in 1907 the Union Jack Club has a reputation for a variety of accommodation to include singles, double, flats, suites, family rooms and disabled rooms providing a comfortable and welcoming environment for our members.

All serving members of the Armed Forces' below commissioned rank enjoy free membership. Former members of the Armed Forces' below commissioned rank are invited to apply for membership, with individual membership at £20 and family £25 for 2012. Life Membership is available on request.

Membership gives access to the Club 24 hours a day 365 days a year, whether for accommodation, a casual drink, an informal get together or just leaving luggage. Whether you are a former Service member or about to leave the Armed Forces', become a full member of the Union Jack Club and take advantage of its many facilities whether staying in the bedrooms or for casual use of the bars, restaurant, or library. As a member you will benefit from Members rates for accommodation, online booking, use of cyber café, Club Affiliations, advance Car Parking booking, discounted private function room hire, free use of the SOHO gym, free use of the baggage room and many daily events.
